

Lighthearted baggage claim email

Subject: My Suitcase vs. Your Conveyor Belt

Hello [Airline Customer Service],

It seems my suitcase and your conveyor belt had a fight, and sadly, my suitcase lost. When I picked it up after flight [Flight Number] on [Date], it was cracked, bruised, and looking like it had been through an adventure I wasn't invited to.

I've attached photos of the poor victim. Please let me know how to get compensation so I can give my belongings a new home. Hopefully, the next bag I check in with you will have a happier ending.

Sincerely (and with a little humor),

[Your Name]
