

Friendly and casual email about distribution

Subject: Interested in Distributing Your Products

Hi [Recipient's First Name],

I recently tried your products and really liked them! I think they'd do amazingly well in my area, and I'd love to know if you're open to working with new distributors.

Can you share what the process looks like and what you usually expect from partners? I'd be happy to give you more details about my network and how I can help expand your reach.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Best,

[Your First Name]
