

Engaging farewell message for company publication

Subject: A Chapter Ends, Gratitude Begins

Dear [Company Name] Family,

They say that when one door closes, another opens. As I stand at the threshold of retirement, I'm not looking at a closing door but at the beautiful journey that brought me here.

Thirty-five years ago, I walked through these doors as an eager newcomer, full of dreams and armed with little more than enthusiasm. Today, I leave as someone enriched by countless experiences, friendships, and lessons learned alongside the most incredible people I could have hoped to work with.

You've been my teachers, my collaborators, my cheerleaders, and my friends. Together, we've weathered industry changes, celebrated innovations, and built something meaningful. Every project completed, every challenge overcome, and every success achieved has been a team effort.

If I were to write a book about my career, each of you would have a chapter. Some of you were there for the major plot twists, others provided the daily narrative that made the story rich and full. All of you made it a story worth telling.

As I turn this page and begin a new chapter called "retirement," I take with me not just memories, but a piece of each of you. Thank you for making my career feel less like work and more like a calling.

The adventure continues – just in a different setting!

Forever grateful,

[Your Name]

Get more templates here: <https://www.lettersandtemplates.com/letters/retirement-thank-you-letter>